The Mercury Silicone Case provides excellent grip and a perfect fit, as well as a pleasant experience while using the phone, all while maintaining its full security. The case is made from high-quality materials, which, through the combination of silicone, polypropylene, and polyurethane, offers both a flexible and pleasant-to-touch cover. To protect the phone from scratches, the interior of the case is lined with microfiber. Thanks to its matte texture, the Mercury Silicone Case sits securely in hand, thus reducing the risk of slipping, and it effectively absorbs shocks during accidental drops. Proper cutouts allow convenient access to all functional buttons and slots, enabling free use of the smartphone.
