L-Model is a soft version of the case featuring an exceptionally thick single layer of thermoplastic polyurethane, which makes the case soft and effectively absorbs daily impacts. All corners are protected by Dimple Air-Cushion technology, enhancing the level of protection. The design is inspired by street culture and fashion. Double Hybrid Technology Dual layers of polycarbonate and thermoplastic polyurethane absorb and disperse impact force, providing extreme protection against damage. Single 2.6 mm TPU Layer The thick layer of thermoplastic polyurethane gives the case softness and high resistance to everyday shocks and drops. The PC and TPU materials are enhanced with a special coating that prevents scratches, deformation, and excessive color change, ensuring durability and an aesthetic appearance for a long time. The case is sturdy yet thin enough to enable wireless charging and the use of Apple Pay. Additionally, the materials used protect against aging and wear, providing long-lasting protection for the device.
