The Maxlife MXCH-08 induction holder provides convenience and hassle-free charging while traveling by car. Regardless of the phone model, MXCH-08 is fully universal and fits any type of device. The inductive charging capability is only suitable for phones equipped with this special feature. A USB-USB-C cable is also included to charge various other devices. This is an added flexibility that enriches the functionality of this mount. One of the features of the MXCH-08 is its mounting versatility. With the ability to attach to any air vents, this holder is an ideal choice for users of any type of car. Automatic opening and closing make its use hassle-free. What's more, the process is extremely quiet, so you won't be disturbed while driving. The holder's arm spacing, ranging from 7.7 to 11.5 cm, ensures a perfect fit for the size of your phone. Whether it's a smaller or larger model, the MXCH-08 holder is able to hold it securely while traveling.
