Tempered glass is the perfect choice for phone protection. It is made using Case-friendly technology, which means it is compatible with most cases and covers. It features the highest hardness level of 9H (the maximum score on the scale), which contributes to its high resistance to scratches. At the same time, it is extremely thin, with a thickness of only 0.3 mm. It boasts a transparency level of 99%, ensuring that the colors displayed by the phone remain almost unchanged. The installation of the glass is very simple, and the package includes all the necessary elements for proper installation.
