Privacy filter glasses are a product that protects the screen and the visibility of displayed data. The Anti-Spy feature is a darkening structure built into the tempered glass. The two-way filter protects the display from any side against screen information being read from an angle of 28°. The product has a black frame. Its reinforced structure limits the formation of scratches and absorbs energy from accidental impacts. The Privacy tempered glass also has a coating that is easy to keep clean. Privacy filter glasses are a product that protects the screen and the visibility of displayed data.
