The new version of the popular Anti Shock cover impresses with its thin, colorful MagSafe ring and an even better construction. The transparent case combines a rigid back with flexible sides, ensuring durability, protection, and comfort. Reinforced corners and a raised bezel protect the phone from damage, while the internal, textured surface supports heat dissipation. The thin MagSafe ring (1800 Gs) not only stabilizes accessories but also adds style. The case is fully compatible with MagSafe technology, and the cutout for a strap enhances functionality. The sleek design fits modern trends, and the refined details make the Anti Shock Thin Mag stand out from other products.
