The Vogue case is a classic transparent cover with certified military-grade protection and glossy elements. Ideal for those who want to maintain the original look of their phone while adding a subtle shine. Made from double hybrid technology, it combines dual-core layers of polycarbonate and thermoplastic polyurethane that effectively absorb and disperse impact force, providing extreme protection. The case meets military standards for drop testing from a height of 1.2 meters, ensuring high shock resistance. The exceptionally dense PC and TPU material, coated with a special finish, prevents scratches, deformities, and discoloration, ensuring long-lasting aesthetics and durability. Despite its solid construction, the case is thin enough to support wireless charging and Apple Pay, offering full compatibility with modern technologies. Precise cutouts for ports, speakers, and the camera allow easy access to all phone functions, providing convenience for everyday use.
