This USB-C to USB-C fast charging cable is suitable for connecting various devices for charging and data transfer, including devices with iOS and Android systems, headphones, tablets, laptops, etc. Powered by an intelligent chipset, it automatically adjusts the charging power to achieve the maximum charging speed for the device while preventing battery wear and damage. This Type-C cable enables fast PD charging at 60W using a 60W USB-C power adapter, making it ideal for quickly charging the latest iPhone 15 series smartphones. It allows for fast data transfer speeds of USB 2.0 to meet everyday data transmission needs. The durable nylon braided exterior features impressive wear resistance and incredible stretch durability, making the cable soft and flexible, capable of withstanding 25,000 bends without damage. The internal cores made of tinned copper ensure good conductivity, lower resistance, and better oxidation resistance, promising more stable, faster, and more efficient charging.
