The Wave case stands out with its unique, wavy shape, which provides a secure grip and enhances user comfort. The edges and camera frame are made of soft, matte TPU, ensuring additional protection and an elegant appearance. The back of the case is made of transparent polycarbonate, which showcases the phone's original design. The specially designed, raised camera island further protects the lenses from scratches and damage. The wavy sides of the case effectively absorb impacts during falls, minimizing the risk of damage to the phone. The Wave case not only looks great but also primarily protects the phone from scratches and damage.
