Tempered glass with a metal frame is the perfect solution for those looking for maximum protection and an elegant device appearance. The metal frame reinforces the entire structure, making the product resistant to drops and mechanical damage. Made of high-quality tempered glass, it provides excellent scratch resistance (9H), and thanks to the special Anti-fingerprint coating, it protects against fingerprints. The surface of the glass is evenly covered with a protective layer that enhances its durability, while the 2.5D finish ensures it adheres perfectly to the screen. With a thickness of 0.33 mm, it guarantees durability and full touch functionality, making this product an ideal choice for demanding users who value quality and style.
