The Mercury Silicone Case provides excellent grip and a precise fit for your model, as well as an enjoyable user experience while ensuring complete safety for your phone. The case is made from high-quality materials that, through the combination of silicone, polypropylene, and polyurethane, creates a cover that is both flexible and pleasant to the touch. To protect the phone from scratches, the interior of the case is lined with microfiber. Thanks to its matte texture, the Mercury Silicone Case sits comfortably in the hand, reducing the risk of slipping, and it effectively absorbs shocks during accidental drops. The appropriate cutouts allow easy access to all functional buttons and slots, enabling seamless use of the smartphone.
