The Metallic series features cases with a unique metallic finish, distinguished by their unique color scheme and a satin, shimmering surface. Made from durable TPU material, they provide solid protection for the phone. The material used is thicker and slightly flexible, which allows for a more secure fit to the case and more effective shock absorption in the event of dropping the device. The interior of the case is lined with a layer of microfiber-like material, which prevents scratches on the original phone casing. The edges of the case have precise cutouts for connectors and contoured button covers, ensuring convenient access to all device functions.
